

Testimonial for Ad-Sec

One Fine Stay are an upmarket lettings agency working with properties across London, Paris, New York and Los Angeles.

Their properties are all beautifully kept, in prime locations within popular cities, each more divine than the last, offering their customers the most lavish bespoke stay tailored to their needs. The concept behind it being that One Fine Stay gives you the chance to stay in someone's place while they're out of town so you get to live their life for a few days and nights. With a simple booking online you can stay somewhere that is already furnished for the location lifestyle, with the added extras of the owners personal recommendations, so nobody need feel like a tourist.

One Fine Stay prides itself on being an agency for 'non-hotels' where you can book and stay with all the luxuries of a hotel such as decadent furnishings and excellent locations, but without the disadvantages like check in and room disturbances.

Their repertoire boasts decadent, elegant, quirky and surprising houses and apartments; a professionally curated a collection of wonderful places to stay. With each and every single one is different, but all offering the same lavish levels of comfort and character.

We are delighted to begin our association with this exciting concept, providing over 100 hours of overnight and weekend guarding to their Headquarters in Clerkenwell, to offer our own bespoke tailored services ensuring One Fine Stay work in a secure environment.

